INTERLINEAR TRANSLATIONS. The Hamilton, Locke and Clark Series have long been the Standard and are now the Best Translated and Most Complete Series of Interlinears published.

S. AUSTIN ALLIBONE, the distinguished author, writes: "There is a growing disapprobation, both in Great Britain and America, of the disproportionate length of time devoted by the youthful student to the acquisition of the dead languages; and therefore nothing will tend so effectually to the preservation of the Greek and Latin Grammars as their judicious union (the fruit of an intelligent compromise) with the Interlinear Classics."

Butler, LL.D., of Wisconsin State Historical Society. "I have been impressed by the range of topics upon which she touched, and by my own need of information concerning many of the things of which she has written" —Hamilton Wright Mabie.

"A great amount of curious and valuable information wanted almost every day by thoughtful people, yet which cannot be found because it is stowed away in some obscure volume in the library."—School Journal, New York.

"It easily ranks among the most notable American publications."—Rt. Hon. Wm. E. Gladstone.

"I have examined 'Curious Questions,' and find it full of interesting and instructive matter. In its plan and contents I was reminded a little of D'Israeli's 'Curiosities of Literature.' Aside from its own intrinsic merit, it may be the cause of many volumes of like kind, though I fear not of equal excellence."—Rev. George Williamson Smith, D.D., President of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

KILLIKELLY, SARAH H.—Continued.

"I commenced examining the 'Curious Questions' without any idea that it would be of service to a man of my age, opportunities, and experience. I find, however, that some of the questions are such as I could not have answered or have known where to look for their answers. Nor are there any questions in the book which it is undesirable to have answered. Such a work will be of inestimable value to any intelligent person, old or young. The plan of the book is original, its purpose that of supplying an actual need, its execution indicative of broad and generous culture, pure taste and delicate discernment."—Rev. Andrew Preston Peabody, D.D., LL.D., of Harvard University.

"I am very much pleased with your work. It has an immense amount of useful knowledge packed into its pages. Your plan of separating the questions and answers is ingenious, for a glance at the question without the appended answer sets one on the search through his own brain for the facts called for. The evidence of personal ignorance makes one covet the information. With the coveting comes the excitement of curiosity, and when, after the process of awakening and stimulating the mind, comes the turning to the page where the answer is found, the student is more likely to read that answer with avidity, and retain it permanently."—Right Rev. John H. Vincent, D.D., Bishop of the M. E. Church, and Chancellor of Chautauqua University.

"Bright as burnished gold, and as rare and valuable. A beautiful gem deserves a beautiful setting. 'Curious Questions' is a rare gem of literature, and the publishers have exhausted the resources of modern skill in the engravers', printers', and binders' arts to give it a rich and tasteful setting."—Robert Browning.

"The author of 'Descriptive Mentality' is a thorough physiognomist, and has been a practical delineator of character and mental capacity for many years."—Living Issues, Boston.

"An expert delineator of character. Few men understand fully their own nature, and nearly all are open to improvement. He has made a science of an art."—Tribune, Chicago.

"Prof. Holmes W. Merton, the well known expert mentologist and physiognomist, has made a close study of reading (from the head, face, and hand) character, temperament, constitutional and natural aptitude for any particular avocation."—Hartford Daily Telegram.

"'Descriptive Mentality,' by Prof. Holmes W. Merton, is a concise and practical method of learning to read and delineate the character, habit, and capacities of the mental faculties from their definite signs in the head, face, and hand. . . . Persons, by comparing their own hands with the drawings, can read their own nature and destiny as portrayed by those signs, lines, and meanings that are present in their hands. . . . The aim has been to widen the general view of life, to teach a valuable art, and to present a new and interesting source of amusement."—School Journal, New York.

". . . It is a strong book and one that should always demand respectful attention, not alone from the student, but from the great reading public, whose horizon of knowledge is broadened by all such worthy efforts. It is simple justice to state that a book stock is not complete without 'Descriptive Mentality.'"—Bookseller and Newsman, New York.

The English edition of Murray, based on the works of Preller, Welcker, and Petiscus, has been a most popular book. In this new edition (based on the latest revised edition of Petiscus) the old illustrations, many of which were imaginary, have been discarded, and fine copies from the latest discovered and best antique works of art have been added. The text has been thoroughly revised and illustrative passages from the poets inserted, making it the best manual for the use of schools, art students, and general readers.

"The fine paper, clear type, and excellent illustrations render it an attractive book. The comprehensive treatment of the subject encourages the average student to complete the book, and must whet his appetite for further research."—Bishop John H. Vincent

NAPHEYS, GEORGE H., A.M., M.D. Physical Life of Woman. Advice to the Maiden, Wife, and Mother. A New Edition, Revised to the Latest Date, with a Life of the Author.

This is the only work on the delicate topic of Woman recommended for popular reading by the most distinguished physicians, eminent divines, prominent educators, leading medical journals, and the press generally. Its extraordinary value and popularity is shown by the fact that of this work and its companion volume, "The Transmission of Life," 280,000 copies have been sold.

12mo, cloth, gilt back and side, ... $2 00

"Dr. Napheys we do not know personally. But this book is at once brave and pure. It is written in such a spirit that she who really desires to learn the truths of which she can not with justice to herself and others be ignorant, may do so without being shocked, while he who hopes to stimulate a vicious imagination by its perusal will turn away from its pages disappointed."—The Independent, New York.

"I have read with much interest and satisfaction 'The Physical Life of Woman.' I am glad that the subject has been taken up by one who shows himself so thoroughly qualified for the task, and I trust the instruction and advice contained in the volume will reach every woman in the land."—William A. Hammond, M.D., Professor in the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York, etc.

"Though professedly written for popular instruction, this little book will not fail to instruct the professional reader as well. We cordially recommend Dr. Napheys' book to every woman seeking a fuller acquaintance with her physical organism."—New York Medical Gazette.

"This book is written in a style well calculated both to please and instruct. There is nothing of the sensational or imaginative character in it. On the contrary, its teachings are in strict accordance with scientific facts and good sense. Though designed specially for females, a careful perusal would be productive of much benefit to both sexes."—Chicago Medical Examiner.

"Your new work, on 'The Transmission of Life,' is one that every boy and every man, every bachelor, parent, or teacher, should have and read and be grateful for. I have given sufficient study to the ways and needs of boys and young men to appreciate, perhaps more fully than most, the importance of your theme. I have been much instructed by your writings, and I desire others to be benefited thereby."—Rev. H. Clay Trumbull, late Missionary-Secretary of the American Sunday-School Union, Editor of the "Sunday School Times," Philadelphia, etc.

STAUFFER, FRANK H. The Queer, The Quaint, and The Quizzical. A Cabinet for the Curious. Crown octavo, cloth, gilt top, with full index, $1 25

"Never did a title to a book express its contents with more fidelity than the above, for the book itself contains a little of everything that is odd, queer, quaint, and curious. As a work of reference or a volume to be picked up at leisure moments, nothing could be better. How and where the author ever found these items and short bits of information is a puzzle to the uninitiated. A good index facilitates the finding of what one wants to know."—Chicago Evening Journal.

STORMONTH, REV. JAMES. A Dictionary of the English Language. Pronouncing, Etymological, and Explanatory. Embracing Scientific and other terms, familiar terms, and a copious selection of old English words, together with valuable appendixes.

A New Revised and Enlarged Edition with Supplement, compared anew with such high authorities as Professor W. W. Skeat, M.A., of Oxford University; F. Max Muller, LL.D., of Oxford, and others. SWINBURNE, ALGERNON CHARLES. A Popular Library Edition. Now for the first time issued. Two volumes.

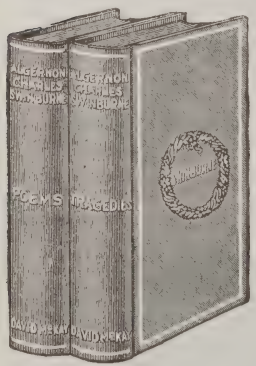
Poems, one volume, crown octavo, cloth, gilt top, net, ... 1 50
Tragedies, one volume, crown octavo, cloth, gilt top, net, ... 1 50
Also in three-quarter calf, gilt top, per volume, ... 4 00
Sets in either style may be had boxed.

Each volume, 6 x 8½ ins., 1½ ins. thick, has a photogravure frontispiece and rubricated title, making a handsome set.



The issuing of this edition of Swinburne in two volumes, one "Poems" and the other "Tragedies," we feel is really needed. To get the author's works before this time meant either buying the American edition in eleven volumes or collecting the English edition, in more numerous volumes, at even greater expense. The works of all the other standard poets may be had in some compact form for library use, and Swinburne surely should not be neglected. This edition, with the exception of "Rosamund," "Balen," and a few minor poems, is complete.

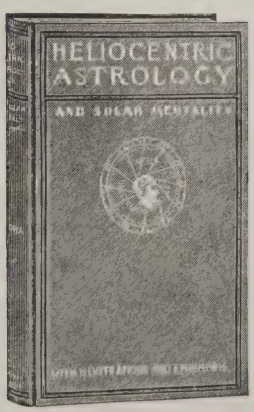
VEDRA, YARMO. Heliocentric Astrology; or, Essentials of Astronomy and Solar Mentality, with Tables of Ephemeris to 1910. With Sixty-four Illustrations, Thirty-five of which are Original Drawings by Holmes W. Merton, Author of "Descriptive Mentality."
Octavo, cloth, gilt top, ... 1 50



"It is not the work of a dreamer or a fanatic, but rather a presentation of truths that were more familiar to the ancients than to the scientists of our day. It is destined to become a classic among this sort of literature, for it merits the candid examination of every educated mind."—Faith and Hope Messenger.

"If the reader is curious to know the influences the stars are said by some to have had upon his life, he is recommended to read 'Heliocentric Astrology; or, Essentials of Astronomy and Solar Mentality, with Tables of Ephemeris to 1910.' By Yarmo Vedra."—Globe Democrat, St. Louis.

"A fascinating book is that written by Yarmo Vedra entitled 'Heliocentric Astrology.' However much the reading of destiny in the stars may be pooh-poohed by science, there is a subtle charm in the weird horoscopes figured out of planetary conjunctions, zodiacal birth signs, etc., and Mr. Vedra has made an entertaining contribution to the subject."—The Call, Philadelphia.

WHITMAN, WALT. Leaves of Grass. Variorum edition. Each poem has been compared with previous editions and all changes in the readings given in foot-notes. Together with a department of "Gathered Leaves," being a collection of poems discarded from the earlier editions. An autobiography in facsimile, and four portraits. 1 vol., crown 8vo, cloth, gilt top, uncut edges, ... 1 25

"It aims to give the growing as well as the grown Whitman. The accepted readings are given in the text. Each poem has been carefully compared with that appearing in all previous editions, and the changes have been inserted in foot-notes. The lines have been numbered, by which means the reader can readily compare the various readings and mark their transformations. Under the head of 'Gathered Leaves' I have collected such poems as have been dropped by the way, some of which appeared in only one, and others in several editions. I was frequently called upon to give information concerning poems whose headings had been changed. These have been noted, and in the alphabetical list at the end of the volume all such titles appear, with reference to the present title."—Preface.

"The book is finely gotten up and would have pleased Walt himself."—John Burroughs.

ADAMS' ENGINEERS' HANDBOOK. By Prof. Henry Adams, M.Inst.C.E., M.I.M.E. 576 pages. Royal 8vo, cloth (6¼ x 8¾). Price $2 50

A most important contribution towards the technical education of mechanical engineers, and is, undoubtedly, the most helpful work of its kind that has ever been published. It collects and explains all the chief facts and formulæ of Engineering, and deals clearly and concisely with the principles and practice involved in every operation and in every branch of the subject. The splendid utility of the "Engineers' Handbook" is assured by the eminence of its author, Prof. Henry Adams, who was for twelve years in charge of the outdoor contracts of Sir W. G. Armstrong & Co.; and he is not only Past President of the Society of Engineers and of the Civil and Mechanical Engineers' Society, but was for many years Professor of Engineering at the City of London College. Prof. Adams, therefore, brings to his task the specialized skill of the successful technical teacher, as well as the ripe experience of a practical and consulting engineer of high standing.

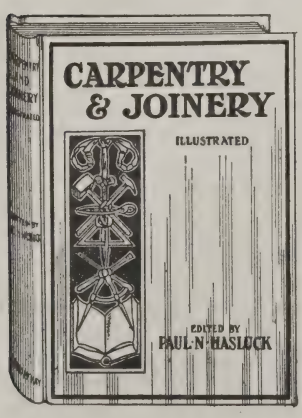
CARPENTRY AND JOINERY. Edited by Paul N. Hasluck. This work comprises Notes on Materials, Processes, Principles, and Practice. 567 pages. Royal 8vo, cloth (6¼ x 8¾), with 1500 Engravings and 12 colored plates. Price, ... 3 00



It is a book which by its wealth of practical information is indispensable to all who are directly engaged in, or are in any way interested in, the important crafts with which it deals. "Carpentry and Joinery" has the peculiar merit that, in nearly every instance, the description of process and material, method and practice, is the direct outcome of actual experience and special investigation—that is, none of the cases dealt with are imaginary; they have all occurred in practice. Actual examples of all kinds of Carpentry and Joinery are described in clear and simple language and in careful detail, until the whole art and craft of Carpentry and Joinery is plainly revealed. The Editor has no rival in the production of books of recognized value on the handicrafts.

CABINET WORK AND JOINERY. Edited by Paul N. Hasluck. Comprising Designs and Details of Construction, with 2021 Working Drawings and 12 Colored Plates. 574 pages (6¼ x 8¾). Royal 8vo, cloth. Price, ... $3 00

Cabinet work and Joinery is the natural outcome of and sequel to "Carpentry and Joinery," with which work it is uniform in style and price. While the chief object of that work was to explain constructive principles adopted in the related crafts of carpentry and joinery, the present purpose is to give some hundreds of examples showing further how these principles are applied in everyday practice.

The present book devotes but little space to the rudiments of cabinet work and joinery, but makes a direct and immediate appeal to the constructive instinct of the craftsman by presenting him with an extensive and varied range of designs of completed articles, accompanied by full explanatory notes. No less than two hundred and fifty different designs with details are included in this book, the illustrations numbering 2021 in all.

Is a treatise, and a very practical one, on the art of conjuring, in its various and bewildering departments, some of which require special apparatus, most of which require that dexterity known as sleight-of-hand. There are, for example, card tricks which can be played with ordinary cards and without sleight-of-hand, and others again which demand special apparatus. There are coin tricks, tricks with watches, rings, handkerchiefs, dominos, dice, etc.

The tricks are clearly and comprehensively explained by diagrams and illustrations when necessary. This book will afford an inexhaustible fund of amusement in a family where the young people are fond of games and are quick in acquiring these things. The explanations are given most comprehensively, and cover an immense field; besides, the book is filled with illustrations demonstrating the easiest way to accomplish these feats of legerdemain, magic, etc.

There is a vast difference between telling how a trick is done and teaching how to do it. This is the only book that teaches how to do it.

No modern series of tales for boys and youths has met with anything like the cordial reception and popularity accorded to the Frank Merriwell Stories. There must be a reason for this and there is. Frank Merriwell, as portrayed by the author, is a jolly, whole-souled, honest, courageous American lad, who appeals to the hearts of the boys. He has no bad habits, and his manliness inculcates the idea that it is not necessary for a boy to indulge in petty vices to be a hero. Frank Merriwell's example is a shining light for every ambitious lad to follow. Twenty volumes now ready:

His work soon became the standard version of the Arthur story in England, and has since exercised a considerable influence on its literature.

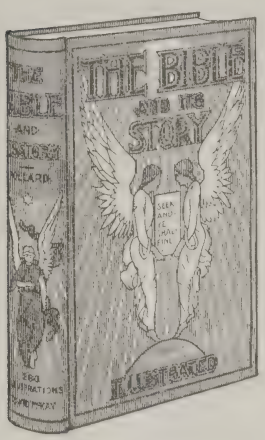
PATTEN, GILBERT. Clif Stirling, Captain of the Nine. Being the first Volume of the Clif Stirling Series. 12mo, cloth. Illustrated with a colored frontispiece and eight fine half-tones, handsomely bound in fine cloth, stamped in gold and colors, ... 1 25

That Mr. Patten, the author of the "Rockspur Series," has begun another series of books for boys is good news indeed. Clif Sterling is a bright, wholesome, clean American boy, and the following of his career in school and college sports means that a notable addition will be made to books of the best character for juvenile readers.

POLLARD, JOSEPHINE. The Bible and Its Story. By Josephine Pollard, author of "The History of the New Testament in Words of One Syllable," "History of the Old Testament," "Battles of America," etc. 12mo, cloth, ... $1 00

The book comprises 576 pages, size 6 x 8 inches. There are 280 illustrations (many of them full-page), of which a complete list is prefixed to the volume. Especial attention is called to the index, which occupies 22 double-column pages, and contains upward of 2000 analytical references to the text. The great fullness of this index will of itself render the volume invaluable to all who believe that a familiar knowledge of the incidents of the Bible cannot be acquired at too early an age.



This volume has been published to assist parents, guardians, and teachers in the religious instruction of those under their charge, by enabling them to place in the hands of children a book which would reverently tell the Biblical story without sectarian bias.

Mrs. Josephine Pollard, the well-known popular writer for children, has put some of her best work into this beautiful book. She has taken the Bible at the first chapter of Genesis and retold the wonderful story step by step to the last chapter of Revelation. It has been to the writer evidently a labor of love. She enlists the reader's interest at once, and holds it to the end. Children will find it as fascinating as a fairy book. It is simplicity itself; yet, with all its simplicity, it is not childish.

It is a series of interesting biographical sketches of the lives and attainments of distinguished Americans. The portraits and other illustrations are authentic.

"'One Hundred Famous Americans' is a century of short biographies of as many noted men and women who have distinguished themselves and reflected honor upon their native land in the different arts of peace and war. It is a useful book for reference, and is largely illustrated."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

"May be regarded as a sort of condensed biographical dictionary for the use of juvenile readers, although the style less dry and formal than belongs to a work of that class. The author writes with intelligence and impartiality."—N. Y. Sun.

"As a collection of personal data the book is exceedingly useful. It is full of encouragement for the young, in showing them what great things can be done by hard, well-directed work."—N. Y. Evening Post.

"Is, in itself, a library of biography for young people. Its list of titles includes the names of many eminent Americans, both living and dead, who have gained fame, and whose lives are the best of lessons and examples. The compiler has written the brief sketches concisely, yet in a readable style."—New York Independent.

"Happy the boy into whose life this admirable array of great men and women, with all the illustrations, portraits, and designs enters. The selection of characters, and the characteristics of each, are as noticeable as the attractive way in which the facts are put."—Journal of Education, Boston.

WOOD, REV. J. G., M.A. New Illustrated Natural History. With many Hundred Illustrations from Designs by Wolf, Zwecker, Weir, Coleman, Harvey, and other Artists, engraved by the Brothers Dalziel. Stamped in Gold and Colors. Large 8vo, cloth, $2 50

Wood's "Natural History," with its charming descriptions and delightful anecdotes of all animals, both domestic and wild, is the greatest authority in the land. It gives minutely, and in the simplest language, the habits, haunts, diseases, and peculiarities of the entire animal kingdom. The descriptions of the animals are truthful and interesting. Their portraits, as shown in the hundreds of illustrations, are accurately drawn, and make us realize the variety and beauty of earth's creatures. The life and habits of animals, reptiles, birds, etc., are of equal interest to old and young. Rev. J. G. Wood is the recognized authority upon the subject, and possesses the rare faculty of making his descriptions and anecdotes of animal life more fascinating than a novel. No library is complete without it. It is impossible to give in this announcement more than a slight idea of the magnitude of this great history, with its accurate descriptions. It virtually goes into the haunts of all animals, and shows them as they live. It is the recognized authority all over the world.

WOOD, REV. J. G., M.A. Popular Natural History. With 600 Illustrations by Wolf, Harrison Weir, and others. Handsomely bound, stamped in Gold and Colors. Crown 8vo, cloth, ... 1 50

No science exerts a greater influence in broadening and elevating the mind than that which treats of the nature, structure, and habits of the lower animals. This volume is made more interesting than most works on natural history for young readers because of its simple, graphic language, its accurate classification, and the number of anecdotes, nearly all of them new, which illustrate the ferocity or docility, the instinct and traits, of the humbler inhabitants of the earth. It is a condensation of his larger work, and has been prepared especially for the instruction and entertaining of the young.

THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

537 C. M.

JESUS, these eyes have never seen
That radiant form of thine;
The veil of sense hangs dark between
Thy blessèd face and mine.

2 I see thee not, I hear thee not,
Yet art thou oft with me;
And earth hath ne'er so dear a spot
As where I meet with thee.

3 Like some bright dream that comes unsought
When slumbers o'er me roll,
Thine image ever fills my thought,
And charms my ravished soul.

4 Yet though I have not seen, and still Must rest in faith alone,
I love thee, dearest Lord, and will,
Unseen, but not unknown.

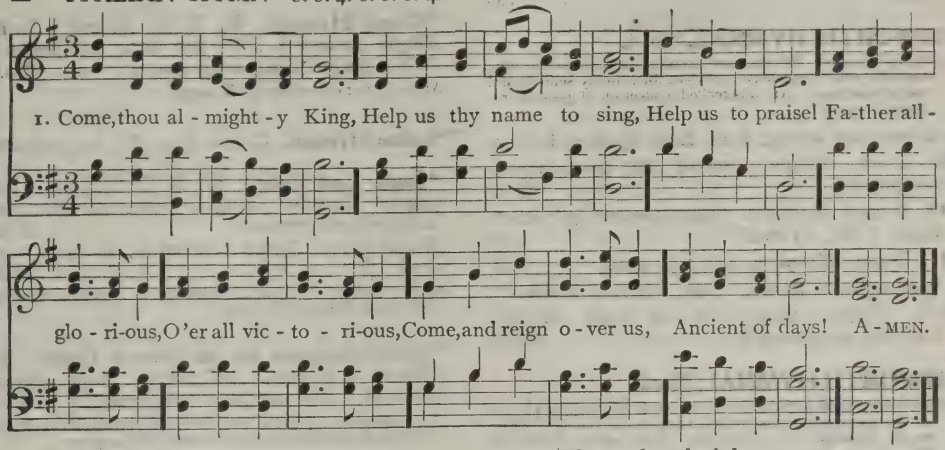
2 ITALIAN HYMN 6. 6. 4. 6. 6. 6. 4. FELICE GIARDINI



2 Come, thou Incarnate Word,
Gird on thy mighty sword,
Our prayer attend;
Come, and thy people bless,
And give thy word success:
Spirit of holiness,
On us descend!

3 Come, Holy Comforter,
Thy sacred witness bear,
In this glad hour:
Thou who almighty art,
Now rule in every heart,
And ne'er from us depart,
Spirit of power!

4 To the great One and Three,
Eternal praises be
Hence, evermore:
His sovereign majesty
May we in glory see,
And to eternity
Love and adore!

*CHRISTIAN FESTIVALS SERIES.

Our great national festivals, back of whose observance is the Christian religion, have never before been adequately treated from the strictly Christian viewpoint. These volumes were planned to fill that need. They will take rank at once with the best sermonic literature of recent years, and their value to the minister as model sermons for special occasions will be great, The general religious reader will be stimulated and inspired by the fresh revelation of the Christianity which lies at the heart of these festival observances. NOW cHi'ram king of Tyre sent messengers to Da'vid, and timber of cedars, with masons and carpenters, to build him a house.

THE ROSE-COLORED WORLD

AND OTHER FANTASIES

By ETHEL MARY BRODIE

Illustrations in color by H. Richard Boehm.

Cloth, 12mo. $1.25 net.

A BEAUTIFUL GIFT BOOK

We ask the booksellers to order only one copy of "The Rose-Colored World" and have their clerks read it. It will then be recommended to ninety-nine out of a hundred customers that come into the store.

They are the most exquisite and finished stories yet published. All are brilliant, delightful, fresh and vigorous, and have a charm as clear as a running brook. This should make the gift book of the year. The illustrations alone should make it a success, as well as the price.

THE FEET OF THE YEARS

By JOHN DALISON HYDE

Author of "Mrs. Maclean," etc.

Cloth, 12mo. $1.25 net.

The story tells of Penelope, a beautiful, passionate girl, innocent but trustful. How she gives her love to a rich young man of the world, and how in the end his better self prevails.

The plot is intensely dramatic, powerful and absorbing. The story has a freshness and charm that will catch the reader's sympathy at once, and hold it to the end. A delightful, bright and engaging novel, and one that will be much read and appreciated. The English publishers look for it to be one of the big books of the year.

FALL, 1910

THE ROMANCE OF A MONK

By ALIX KING

Author of "The Romance of a Nun," "A Little Novice."

Cloth, 12mo. $1.20 net.

The story is connected with a wealthy and beautiful young woman who, having remained heart-whole for many years, is, during a temporary residence in Rome, brought under the influence of a Franciscan monk, whose course of Lenten sermons she attends and whose indifference to her beauty first piques, then goads her to a half-petulant, half-serious resolve to win his admiration. The dénouement is as striking as it is original, even without the broad interest afforded by the incidental description of Lent and Easter in the Eternal City. This book is sure to prove to be a success of the season.

THE ROMANCE OF A NUN

By ALIX KING

Author of "The Romance of a Monk," "A Little Novice."

Cloth, 12mo. $1.20 net.

A novel of true human interest; a book which literally has not a dull sentence in it from the first to the last page.

It is from a new standpoint that the struggle between passion and conscience is shown us in this unconventional romance of a nunnery. A clever story, exciting, palpitating with pathos and passion, written with great skill and delicacy, and the highest instincts of the human heart. An extraordinary book, in which the charm throughout is irresistible. One of the most convincing and most heart-rending human documents ever written.

SPRING, 1910

A VICTORIOUS LIFE

By LEONORA B. HALSTED

Colored frontispiece by H. Richard Boehm.

Cloth, 12mo. $1.50.

"A Victorious Life" is the story of a woman who has the strength and glow of life, life which uses all things as means to its end, growth.

"It is a book so daring it is sure to be talked about."—Detroit Free Press.

"One of the most charming heroines who have been created in years."—New Orleans Item.

"A story of an unusual life in rather an unusual manner."—Chicago Daily News.

"There is a great glow and strength of life and the sincerity of the writer is not to be questioned at any time."—Buffalo News.

"The story is of a character that will appeal to the deep and thoughtful reader as well as the lover of light fiction. The possibility of the story is convincing from first to last."—Grand Rapids News.

"Bertha, the heroine, is a character that appeals like a clearing wind from a stormy sea. Her victorious life, its failures and triumphs, are so enchantingly related that the last paragraph is read with a feeling of elation that such victories may be."—Boston Globe.

"The story is in no sense of the word commonplace, and the interest is well sustained throughout. The scene of the story is set in the West, and there is a breeziness about the dramatis personae and the dialogue that lends vivid coloring to the narrative."—Philadelphia Ledger.

"Here is the story of a woman's life almost from its beginning to the time when the end is in sight. She is a woman whose bodily and mental vigor and whose aspirations impel her constantly to such action as will give her the largest, fullest, freest life."—New York Times.

"The style is fluent, the story well carried forward, the unity of action well marked; in a word, it is a readable book with no attempt at fine writing, although the practiced writer's skill shows on every page. 'A Victorious Life' will be perused with quiet pleasure and not a little profit by those who find fiction to be their best means of literary entertainment and casual instruction."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

"There is a singular quality in it, which may, perhaps, be defined by saying that wherever the story would otherwise lag the writer's own strong and interesting personality buoys it up and sweeps the reader along upon a level that is unusual in American literature. It is as unlike the plain tale characteristic of American novelists as the day differs from the night."—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

SPRING, 1910

THE MYSTERY OF EVANGELINE FAIRFAX

By EARLE KUNST

Illustrated by H. Richard Boehm.

Cloth, 12*mo.* $1.00 net.

This is a story of love, adventure and impenetrable mystery, impressive in its realism, with a real hero and a most lovable girl.

A story of actual life, with flesh and blood human beings.

A powerful, dramatic romance.

THE ADVENTURE OF PRINCESS SYLVIA

By MRS. C. N. WILLIAMSON

Author of "Lightning Conductor," etc.

Colored frontispiece by Mary La F. Russell.

Popular edition. Cloth, 12*mo.* 50 cents.

The story is ably and interestingly told. It is a love story of uncommon merit, one that the reader would only expect from the pen of the talented author of "The Lightning Conductor." Every page is teeming with vivid incidents that hold the reader's interest to the very last page. A story of love and romance, having for its characters some of the most notable crowned heads of Europe.

FALL, 1909

THE FLAW IN THE SAPPHIRE

By CHARLES M. SNYDER

Author of "Comic History of Greece," etc.

Cloth, 12mo. $1.00 net.

The F-I-T-S is really a story within a story, and its plot, development and literary workmanship will hold the reader's attention from the first page to the last.

"The plot is most involved and the story is written in gravely grandiloquent style in itself entertaining."—Chicago News.

"The very first thing to commend the story is the delicious irony and pungent wit of the author, an unusual quality, by the way, in most stories of this class. It relieves the tension and does not in the least interfere with the vivid interest of the plot."—Buffalo Courier.

"Fantasy and fascination—these are the words which best convey an idea of this book. The former term describes the contents of the book; the latter tells its effect on the reader."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

"Rambling lightly and swiftly through a maze of triplicate narrative, Charles M. Snyder's fantastic tale presents a curious complication of mysteries, and is a wondrous effort of the fictionist's fancy."—Philadelphia North American.

"The tales show considerable ingenuity and fertility of invention, and the between stories accounts of the young man's doings reveal not a little knowledge of real life and ability to express it with brevity and humor."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

"The tale is full of action and real humor, and if it was the author's purpose to keep his readers guessing he has succeeded probably beyond his greatest expectations."—New York Evening Mail.

"There is of course a sweet maiden in the tale. I shall say no more but commend it to those who like sensational literature, and believe me, it is a book of helter-skelter, unrestrained imagination."—Boston Times.

"For those who enjoy unwinding the intricacies of the detective story or mystery story, the tale in hand will serve the purpose as well as most of its kind."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"The manner of revealing the tale is original. The criminal romance alone, with its clever solution by a matter-of-fact detective, is in itself an admirable piece of work."—New York Express.

"The book stands alone among the fiction of the day. Tradition and precedent are avoided in the construction. There is a story within a story and within that another story, while enshrined in this are still other incidental stories and episodes."—Philadelphia Press.

"A posthumous autobiography," is what Colonel Church calls this remarkable work, adding, "In this book Stedman speaks to his friends again." Nothing more, perhaps, need be said of its quality. The author herself calls it "An autobiographic biography." "So wonderful is his personality even after death," she says, "that I do not seem to have written it myself. I constantly have had the feeling that he was directing what I should say and what I should not say, even sometimes contrary to my planning."

This work deals with the whole Stedman. It reproduces the ma the poet, the critic, the patriot, the scholar. It details in remarkab spirit his fight, against circumstances and poverty, for art, for Amer can criticism. "If I have any conscience," he once wrote, "it is i relation to my art." It pictures his pluck, his valor, his refusals t degrade his work for money. It has the full flavor of the roman of his remarkably romantic career. It reproduces not only his strug gles, but his successes. It makes, in short, this great American liv again before us.

It is probable that no American biography for some years ha possessed, as this one possesses, this power of reproducing in very fa its subject. It reads, therefore, as the world's greatest biographie all read, like romance, which is, with a little perspective, like lif Miss Stedman, the author, is the poet's granddaughter. She was h literary secretary for ten years.

There has been no biography of this important figure in America letters, and this, the official biography, which is also intrinsically s noble a biography, is likely to be one of the sound sellers of thi and future years.

SHAKESPEARE'S ENGLAND

By William Winter

New, Revised and Definitive Edition

With many new illustrations. Large 8vo, $3.00 net. By mail, $3.40

This superb volume, with its many revisions and amplifications, its exquisite new type, its many exquisite illustrations, has all the beauty and attractiveness of a wholly new work. Depicting, "not so much the England of fact as the England created and hallowed by the spirit of her poetry, of which Shakespeare is the soul," it is much more truly to-day, with its many changes, what years ago it was accepted for on both sides the sea, the "best volume of English travel that has ever appeared."

Its former edition, of late withdrawn in anticipation of this new and resplendent edition, won world-wide recognition in spite of its form. "These volumes about England," wrote Thomas Bailey Aldrich, "are the loveliest things that have been done in this kind. . . . Washington Irving lived among those scenes, but he never nestled so close to the poetic heart of England." "He is a convincing and eloquent interpreter of the august memories and venerable sanctities of the old country," said the London Saturday Review—and think of that paper admitting so much of an American. "Here is England in a drop of honey," wrote George William Curtis. "Pleasant to take and read anywhere," wrote Oliver Wendell Holmes. "Temperament is the explanation of style," wrote the author himself, in his preface, "and he has written thus of England because she has filled his mind with beauty and his heart with mingled joy and sadness."

And now, enlarged and perfected, with its beautiful type dress, wide margins, exquisite illustration and tasteful, handsome binding, it is a new and beautiful thing for a new generation. It will stand in the first rank of the season's gift books.

A brilliant, sympathetic, extremely graphic account of Rostand's celebrated play, dealing with the interesting history of its conception, writing and first performances, together with a description of

It is exactly the book that everybody needs just now, as it is highly informing about every essential detail of the story and original production, and yet in no manner whatever a substitute for the play itself. In fact, this book, in addition to its other uses, will prove the best possible preparation for anyone intending to either see or read the play itself.

It is illustrated with drawings from the original performances.

SCIENTIFIC BOOKS

HYPNOIDAL PSYCHOTHERAPY

In the Treatment of Functional Nervous Maladies

By Boris Sidis, M.A., Ph.D., M.D.

Formerly Associate in Psychopathology at the Pathological Institute of the New York State Hospitals; Director of the Psychopathic Hospital and Psychopathological Laboratory of the New York Infirmary for Women and Children; Medical Director of the Sidis Psychotherapeutic Institute, Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

Illustrated, 12*mo.* $2 net. By mail, $2.20

The volume treats of the hypnoidal state discovered by the author in the course of his scientific work, and of the new methods by means of which one can get a full insight into the nature of functional nervous maladies. Functional nervous diseases are described, classified, their nature expounded and their mechanism laid bare. By means of the hypnoidal state one can learn to know the cause of the disease, and also to effect a permanent cure. The hypnoidal state is a normal condition universal in the animal world and is of the utmost value in the treatment of nervous and mental troubles. A knowledge of the hypnoidal state is of vital importance to all those who are interested in the activities of mental life, and especially in the recent methods of Psychotherapeutics. The work describes histories of absorbing interest to every intelligent reader. One reads in those histories not only the accounts of disease and of cure, but one sees before him the spiritual maelstrom of human life and witnesses man's inner struggles, strivings, failures, and achievements. Important and far-reaching principles are worked out by the author, principles which are not only of the utmost consequence in Psychotherapy and in Abnormal Psychology, but are also of immense value in the domain of education.

NEW BOOK

By Sir Oliver Lodge, Author of "Science and Immortality," "The Survival of Man," etc.

8vo. $2.00 net. By mail, $2.20

In his volume to be published this autumn, Sir Oliver Lodge continues the account of his own psychical investigations—a subject begun in his treatise on "The Survival of Man"—and now describes what he has observed of the physical phenomena accompanying unusual mental state—that is to say, the movements and uncanny effects which appear to be produced within a moderate distance of the body of an entranced medium.

Some of the phenomena thus observed are extremely incredible; but nevertheless he maintains that things superficially incredible do occur; and it may be suspected that the importance of these things lies in their bearing on the possible occurrences of phenomena which have been generally styled "miraculous."

Sir Oliver limits his account in the main to his own experiences, just as he did in "The Survival of Man," but he includes a brief presentation of the attitude of some of the great philosophers to occult subjects generally; and he propounds a sort of diagrammatic representation, or skeleton scheme, which shall include the whole range of human faculty, both recognized and unrecognized.

The book covers the period in English history up to 1689, the year of the enactment of the Bill of Rights. The writer traces the successive stages in the growth of the power to lay taxes, as developed in the Saxon Witenagemot, the English National Council, the two Houses of Parliament, and finally in the House of Commons. The book is pertinent to the present crisis in English politics in respect of its telling how the House of Commons attained the exclusive rights of initiating money bills.

DIARY OF A REFUGEE

By Frances Fearn

12*mo*. $1.25 net. By mail, $1.35

This book reproduces the diary kept by a Louisiana woman in 1862 and is therefore an invaluable first-hand document. The writer was an earnest worker for the good of the slaves on her husband's plantation and the book is full of intimate glimpses of the homely everyday life in the extreme South during war days. The record has been somewhat amplified by her daughter, Mrs. Fearn, in places where recollection served to fill interesting gaps in the original manuscript.

She tells of the sugar planter's flight with his family up the Mississippi River as refugees, at the outbreak of war; first halt in the pine forests of Northern Louisiana; further afield on a Texas Ranch essaying a new order of colonization, followed by a journey in stage coach across the plains into Mexico with narrative of a thrilling escape from Indians and a remarkable colloquy between General Grant and a Confederate officer.

The scene shifts to Mexico, and the romance of a French officer on the staff of Emperor Maximilian. Horrors of Bagdad at the mouth of the Rio Grande and subsequent perilous crossing of the bar and flight to Havana.

Then to England and France in a coasting steamer, and reminiscences of the American Colony in Paris under Napoleon III.

BOOKS ON PRACTICAL QUESTIONS

WHERE EVERY PENNY COUNTS

By Ida M. Tarbell

12*mo*. About $1.00 net

This brilliant summary of the case of the People against High Prices is likely to create a vast deal of talk in the late summer and autumn of this year, when, in view of all the signs, the subject, in connection with another tariff agitation, is likely to prove the greatest subject before the American people. Miss Tarbell's views are well known. Her recent series of tariff articles in the American Magazine has made her widely talked about in this connection. This book will stand very close to the storm center. It is planned to publish it in the late summer so that it will have the start of other books which may enter this field and be in line with the first guns of the tariff war which is sure to open briskly with the early return of cooler weather.

TWO YEARS IN A TENT

By Faith Whitney. The preface by Samuel McComb, M.A., D.D.

50 cents net. By mail, 55 cents

"All are agreed to-day," writes Dr. McComb, "that for many types of sickness, and especially for functional disorders of the nervous system, a return to nature, in the sense of a return to fresh air, is of vital importance. The writer of this little book not only gives due emphasis to this fact, but shows the value of the psychic element of joyous humor. With admirable candor she sets forth the little inconveniences of tent life; but these may very well be borne in view of the great blessing which lies beyond them."

RELIGIOUS BOOKS

SCIENTIFIC CHRISTIANITY

By Gerald Leighton, M.D., F.R.S

12*mo.* About $1.25 net

Its first purpose is to prove the worth of the religious and moral life by the law of evolution as applied to biology. The reason for its writing is that men and women to-day, especially those who have studied science, have become impatient with the Church, and, confusing Christ with the Church, are tending to become skeptical of Christ and to doubt His value as a religious guide. Having shown that the example of Christ is a thing quite separate from the Church, the object of the writer is to demonstrate scientifically that it is possible through the working of the law of evolution to so live, by copying the example set by Christ, as to live ourselves the Greatest Life.

THE INFINITE PRESENCE

By George M. Gould

12*mo*. $1.50 net. By mail, $1.65

CONTENTS

I. The Infinite Presence.
II. The Biologic Basis of Ethics and Religion.
III. The Role of Maternal Love in Organic Evolution.
IV. Immortality.
V. Back to the Old Ways.

These essays of Dr. Gould are not upon five different subjects, but upon five phases of one—that of the title. In the old problems of physics, of maternal love, of the biologic conditions of intellectual development, of ethics, of civilization, even of immortality, the author finds one truth, one being, ever at the heart of the mystery or ideal. "Biologos" is always present, helping and guiding all living organisms toward a definite and ever-attaining "divine event."

The author's knowledge of medical and biological science has furnished a solid foundation from which to deduce his ethical principles. The course and the potentiality of living beings he finds in the living cell, and it is endowed with attributes both human and divine. Each problem is clearly and concisely outlined, the arguments which will reconcile faith and religious feelings with the new science are logically stated, and are substantiated by evidence of mature thought and scholarly research.

The essays, previously published in the Atlantic Monthly, Putnam's Magazine, etc., are to some extent a development and epitome of the author's preceding book, "The Meaning and the Method of Life" (now out of print), published in 1903. Of that book Professor William James wrote: "So far as the world goes my heart beats in full response to your thought, and I know not where to look elsewhere for texts as classic in favor of naturalistic moralism as those to be found in your pages."

THE CHURCH AND THE INDIVIDUAL

By Frank Ilsley Paradise

12*mo.* $1.50 net. By mail $1.65

This book recognizes that one of the great problems of the coming entury is the relation of individual persons to the new scientific nowledge and to the changing social order. Law and organization re a familiar concept, and so too is individualism. The correlation f the two is bound to be one of the great objects of constructive iodern thought.

This book is an interpretation of the Church as a social institution ı the midst of a new order of things, and of the relation of the ıdividual as a social being to the Church. It is a positive statement f the place of organized religion as a structural part of civilized life. t presents a philosophical basis for the position that the extension f the sympathetic relationship among men is the aim of highly devel-ped religion, and herein it approaches the modern social spirit. Vhile it recognizes that the Church was originally adjusted to another orm of society and government, the author shows that it is not fixed y conditions to any moment of history, or to any system of philos-phy, either in its formularies or its polity.

The Church is rather the organism in which all human interests re synthesised and by which they are spiritually interpreted. It herefore is the symbol of ideal truth and right, and in the nature of hings must be the moral leader in all the social and intellectual novements of this age.

LEARNING AND OTHER ESSAYS

By John Jay Chapman

12*mo*. About $1.25 net. By Mail, $1.35

CONTENTS

I. Learning.
II. The Drama.
III. The Comic.
IV. The Doctrine of Non-Resistance.
V. St. Paul's School.
VI. Dr. Samuel G. Howe.

The keynote of this interesting volume is the titular essay whic deals with educational tendencies in the United States and, as migh be expected of the author, preaches the need of a return to classic standards of education. It shows that nursery training and unive sity training are dependent upon each other, and holds that the Unite States cannot hope to excel in the productions of learned men until the old-fashioned domestic education shall return. The Bible and the English classics must be in the hands of children before they reach the age of twelve. The essay on Dr. Howe, the teacher of Laura Bridgman, is an exceedingly interesting biographical contribution.

FICTION

MRS. FITZ

By J. C. Snaith, Author of "Araminta"

12*mo*. $1.35 net. By mail, $1.47

This is at once a Zenda story and a social comedy and is unique in both classes. The hero is an English country gentleman, the heroine the princess of a southern European kingdom who has run away from her inheritance to marry this Englishman. In county circles, the gentry regard the ex-royal Mrs. Fitz as a very doubtful character —"A Viennese Circus Rider," they call her, because her hunting manners are imperious and rather inconsiderate. Of course they don't guess who she really is. Suddenly local society is stirred up by events they don't understand, events which concern this Mrs. Fitz.

The Republican party of her native kingdom desire to assassinate her; her irate father wishes to kidnap her and re-marry her to a suitable Royalty. In the course of the story, an ambassador is killed by the indignant Mr . Fitz, his house is burned by the indignant Republicans and the King himself turns up and visits in a placid country family whose female head had formerly been one of the loudest to decry the "circus rider." Things end happily and Fitz and his Princess, despite the King and the Republicans, live on to scandalize the neighborhood.

FREEBOOTERS OF THE WILDERNESS

By Agnes C. Laut, Author of "Lords of the North," etc.

12*mo.* $1.25 net. By mail, $1.32

A spirited, even a powerful, novel of the Northwest of America as it is to-day, by the author of that other spirited and highly successful American novel, "Lords of the North." The scene is high up in the big timber country with the Rangers, the sheepmen, the missionaries, the outlaws and the others who give the land its character. The issue is one of those which gives the cause of conservation its piquancy to-day, an issue resulting from corporate greed worked out through politics and lawlessness and its resistance by the conservators of the people's interests, the sage green rangers. There is a love story of the utmost interest, and the incidents which cluster around the plot's development are many of them of the most exciting sort. This is, in short, an exceedingly modern American novel of the utmost vitality and importance, one for which a handsome sale may be expected.

By Rupert Hughes

12*mo.* $1.25 net. By mail, $1.32

Here is a thoroughly interesting novel covering Europe in its rapid action and holding the reader delightfully absorbed every minute. The hero, a talented young American surgeon, after a temporary detachment of personality (to use the terms of modern psychology), much to his astonishment discovers himself a patient in a Turkish harem, cared for by a charming veiled woman, the superfluous and unnoticed wife of a local prince to whom she had been presented by the Sultan. Her husband, absorbed in his jealous first wife, had, in the phrase of the land, "never lifted her veil," even to discover her great beauty.

The romance that thereafter keeps the reader's nose constantly between the leaves, is of the most absorbing character. It is a story which will establish Mr. Hughes among the best selling novelists.

THE HOUSE OF BONDAGE

By Reginald Wright Kauffman

12*mo.* $1.25 net. By mail, $1.32

This is a powerful novel of the White Slaves.

Long before the recent extensive publication of the findings of those engaged in hunting out this hideous evil, Mr. Kauffman was living in a tenement house on the famous East Side of New York City studying it face to face. No one knew his mission of knowledge, no one took him for anything more than he appeared to be, a simple, hard-working citizen with perhaps a little more curiosity than the common run of his neighbors. He was very successful. In the most natural way in the world he became acquainted with persons actively and prosperously engaged in the business and became familiar with the whole frightful traffic, including its relation to the police and judicial systems and to politics.

This moving story is the first result. Mr. Kauffman has told it vividly, startlingly, truthfully. It will hold the reader hard to the end, whether the background interests him or not, on account of its sheer power as a human tale. As a picture of life, it is wonderful. As a story, it grips tight. It is altogether likely to make a deep impression.

ARE YOU MY WIFE?

By Max Marcin

Illustrated $1.25 net. By mail, $1.32

Many readers will consider this the crispest and most exciting mystery story that has appeared in a decade. The scene is New York City. The hero, a young lawyer heavily in debt and without clients, accepts an offer made to him by a celebrated lawyer to marry an unknown woman in return for a half million dollars. This is conditioned on his keeping the marriage an absolute secret, every effort he makes to solve the mystery to cost him a hundred thousand dollars of his half million. Within five years he is to be released by divorce and to become unconditionally possessed of his fortune, if, meantime, he has not lost it through undue curiosity.

This situation would have worked out in a perfectly commonplace fashion had the hero really been the nerveless weakling the conspirators supposed him. Because he was something very different, there follows a series of breathless, nerve-racking events, concluding with the sort of climax that sells books.

THE HARD ROCK MAN

By Frederick R. Bechdolt

12*mo.* $1.00 net. By mail, $1.10

This story has all the vivid picturing and powerful narrative force of "9009" which the author wrote in collaboration with James Hopper and which, it will be recalled, won a substantial success. It is the strong love story of a rough man who fought his way to mastery. Full of action and of vivid pictures, it carries the reader through to the end. It deals with fresh material; underground toilers, blasting paths for progress; it is full of the out-of-doors and the beauty of the mountains. The men are real; the woman gives a touch of sweetness. Underneath the interest the book carries a wider understanding of a peculiar class, brought into being by modern industry. The young Irish hero is a common type shown here for the first time. A rare humor relieves the rugged realism. The author shows an unusual intimacy with his people, a knowledge to be gained only by close observation.

BOOKS FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

THE GREEN DOOR

By Mary E. Wilkins-Freeman

Illustrated in colors by Mary Robertson Bassett. Every page decorated, 5½x8 inches. $1.00 net. By mail, $1.10

This story for children has a delectable flavor. It displays her delicate fancy to an unusual degree. The quaint conceit of a little girl entering the past through anything so tangible as a little green door in her great-aunt's cheese-room, and meeting and living with her own great-great-great grandmother and great-great aunts, is unique in literature. No falling asleep and dreaming in this tale; no being transported to fairyland by any of the conventional methods. The little green door ranks with Alice's looking-glass, Jack's beanstalk, and Aladdin's lamp. But instead of introducing one to queens, giants, or genii, it does more solid things; it leads one into the vivid life of the olden times in our country, and though we are still young among nations, we have grown enough to do some looking backward profitably.

THE STORM BIRDS

By SCHROEDER DAVIS

The real story f the blowing up of the battleship "Maine" may be read between the lines of this absorbing war of diplomatic life and intrigue in Washington just previous to the Spanish war.

It is written by one who has breathed intimately the atmosphere of the circle he depicts.

Many of the characters are life studies.

BRITZ OF HEADQUARTERS

By MARCIN BARBER

This is one of those detective stories that every now and then everybody reads.

It is of the sort that makes best sellers.

The scene is New York City, and the crime is the robbery of a diamond necklace.

It is vivid and breathless, full of adventure and surprises, and has a strong last-page finish.

THE SONG OF THE WOLF

By FRANK MAYER

This is a very exciting novel of one man and two women.

Incidentally, it is a fine, spirited novel of range life in the West—but the man and the two women are the thing.

It is as simply told and as direct and primitive in its motives and passions as the land of its action.

THE CONCISE BIBLE DICTIONARY

which forms the Helps to Nelson's Teachers' Bibles is based on the Illustrated Bible Treasury, written by leading scholars in America and Great Britain, each one a recognized authority on the subject on which he writes. It supplies in the most condensed and convenient form all the latest information about the Bible, its writers, its language, the various Versions, complete Chronology, Life of Christ with Harmony of the Gospels, Life and Travels of St. Paul, etc.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS

are reproduced from recent photographs and truly illustrate the articles where they appear.

THE COMBINED CONCORDANCE

combines Complete Concordance, Subject Index, Scripture Proper Names, Obsolete and Ambiguous words in one A-B-C list. It also gives the correct pronunciation and interpretation of Scripture Proper Names and has over 10,000 references to the Revised Version where it differs from the King James Version.

THE 12 MAPS

have been carefully revised and are beautifully colored, notably the reproduction of the Relief Map of Palestine lately published by the Palestine Exploration Society. There is also a complete index to every place noted on the maps.

"The new plan of putting the Helps in Dictionary form is a marked advance over anything yet in print."

THE INTERIOR says:—"This Bible will give more value to the Bible Teacher, Student or Reader, than any other edition of the great book."

For styles and prices, see pages 19-21 and 38, 39.

The ox was used by the Jews for ploughing, treading out the corn in threshing, and for draught, and was only killed for sacrifices and for great feasts. Cows' milk was used, both fresh and slightly curdled, and also churned into butter, or in the form of curds, often called "butter" in Scripture. In the Jordan valley the Indian buffalo has been introduced, probably from Persia, in post-Exilian times.

CEDAR [çē'dar] of Lebanon grows also on the Taurus and Atlas Mountains. It was the king of trees (1 Kings 4. 33), the symbol of grandeur, might, loftiness, and ever-increasing expansion. Its wood was used in the successive temples at Jerusalem and in the palace of Nebuchadrezzar. The cedar of Lev. 14. 4 and Num. 19. 6 is probably an aromatic juniper.

CENCHREA [çĕn'chre-â]. [See CORINTH.]

CHALCEDONY [chăl-çed'ō-nў] (Gr. chalkedon), Rev. 21. 19. One of the many varieties of minutely crystalline silica, of a light, often milky, color, related to agate (q.v.).

CHALDÆA [chăl-dē'â], the plain of Babylon, or Lower Mesopotamia; once a very fertile land, now a barren, sandy desert. One of its great cities was "Ur of the Chaldees."

CHALDÆANS [chăl-dē'ans]. [See BABYLONIA.]

CHALDEE [chal'dee]. [See ARAMAIC.]

CHAMELEON [chă-mē'lē-ŏn]. [See LIZARD.]

CHAMOIS [chăm'ois, shăm'mў] (A. V. and R. V., Heb. "the leaper," Deut. 14. 5), the mouffion, or wild sheep.

CHARIOT [chăr'I-ŏt] (Gen. 41. 43). The Israelites were familiar with chariots, as used by their enemies (Egyptians, Ex. 14. 25; Canaanites, Judg. 4. 3), long before they had them themselves. But David (2 Sam. 8. 4) and Solomon (1 Kings 10. 26) introduced both chariots and horses in ever-increasing numbers. They were two-wheeled vehicles, curved in front and open behind, in which two men could ride, one of whom drove (1 Kings 22. 34), while the other fought with bow or spear.

CHEDORLAOMER [chĕd'or-lā'o-mer]. [See ABRAHAM.]

CHEMOSH [chē'mŏsh], the god of the Moabites. [See MOABITE STONE.]

CHERUB [chĕr'ŭb] (plural CHERUBIM), a symbolical winged creature with a human face, associated in Scripture with the throne or chariot of Jehovah (Ps. 18. 10; 80. 1; 99. 1). In Gen. 3. 24 cherubim appear as the guardians of the approach to the tree of life. Two cherubim were placed on the mercy-seat or covering of the ark of the covenant in the Tabernacle and in the Temple, and figures representing cherubim were wrought into the hangings of the Holy of Holies. In Ezekiel's description (ch. 1 and 10; 41. 18, 19) they have a human body, with a head presenting the faces of a man, a lion, an ox, and an eagle, four hands, and four wings; the whole body of the cherubim and the wheels of the chariot being furnished with innumerable eyes. In Revelation the four faces of the cherubim are distributed among the four "living creatures" that surround the throne of God. [See GOSPELS.]

CHESTNUT-TREE [chĕst'nŭt-tree] (Gen. 30. 37; Ezek. 31. 8; R. V. plane-tree). It is a tall and majestic tree, growing near water in Palestine. From the globular form of the flowers and fruits it is often called button-tree.

CHITTIM [chĭt'tim] (also Kittim, Gen. 10. 4) is Greek Kition, the Phœnician port of Cyprus; the modern Larnaka. Hence Chittim is used in the Old Testament to denote the whole of Cyprus (e. g. Num. 24. 24).

CHRIST [chrīst] JESUS [jē'sus]. [See LIFE OF JESUS, pages 53–67; His Life and Works, see Concordance, under CHRIST; His Names, Titles, and Offices, see Concordance, under JESUS.]

CHRONICLES [chrŏn'I-cles], THE FIRST AND SECOND BOOKS OF THE, are in the third part of the Jewish Canon, where they form one book, named "Words (or "Acts") of Days," i. e. minutes of events, lists of names, and the like. In the LXX. they are divided into two books, entitled Paraleipomĕna, "things omitted" or "passed over." Their Latin title from the time of Jerome has been Chronica, "Chronicles." The priestly tone of the writer, and his preoccupation with the fortunes of the house of David and the kingdom of Judah, are marked features of the work, which runs parallel to the older history (Books of Samuel and Kings), and is mainly drawn from the same sources.

PSALM 47.

The nations are exhorted cheerfully to entertain the kingdom of Christ.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm for the sons of Korah.

O CLAP your hands, all ye people; shout unto God with the voice of triumph.
2 For the LORD most high is terrible; he is a great King over all the earth.
3 He shall subdue the people under us, and the nations under our feet.

AND the word of Samuel came to all Israel. Now Israel went out against the Philistines to battle, and pitched beside Eben-ezer: and the Philistines pitched in Aphek.

2 And the Philistines put themselves in array against Israel: and when they joined battle, Israel was smitten before the Philistines: and they slew of the army in the field about four thousand men.

that smote the Egyptians with all the plagues in the wilderness.

9 Be strong, and quit yourselves like men, O ye Philistines, that ye be not servants unto the Hebrews, as they have been to you: quit yourselves like men, and fight.

10 ¶ And the Philistines fought, and Israel was smitten, and they fled every man into his tent: and there was a very great slaughter; for there fell of Israel thirty thousand footmen.

11 And the ark of God was taken; and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were slain.

I [f]wound, and I heal;
And there is [g]none that can deliver out of my hand.

And say, As I live for ever,

Jĕr-ĭ-chō; and behold the land of Că'-năan, which I give unto the children of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl for a possession; 50 and die in the mount whither thou goest up, and be [l]gathered unto thy people, as Aâr'-ŏn thy brother died in mount Hôr, and was gathered unto his people: 51 [m]because ye trespassed against me in the midst of the children of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl at the waters of Mĕr'-ĭ-băh of Kā'-dĕsh, in the [n]wilderness of Zĭn; because ye sanctified me not in the midst of the children of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl. 52 [o]For thou shalt see the land before thee; but [c]thou shalt not go thither into the land which I give the children of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl.

VARIORUM TEACHERS' BIBLES.

THE TEXT IS THE KING JAMES VERSION with the passages marked where the rendering is considered faulty by scholars and where the reading of the original text is found to vary from the best and more recently discovered MSS., Versions, Translations, etc. This marking is similar to the well-known reference marks, and does not interfere with the ordinary reading of the Scriptures.

The passages so marked have references in the footnotes on each page, where may be found various renderings with their authorities and various readings, with the sources from which they are taken.

THE VARIORUM NOTES, together with the "New Aids to Bible Students," give to the Student of Scripture an amount of information which could only be obtained by the possession of a very exhaustive and costly Library. Thus within the compass of a PORTABLE VOLUME is comprised the quintessence of Biblical Criticism and Scholarship in the most convenient form.

of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.
42 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.
43 When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.
44 Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.
45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.
46 While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.
47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.
48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?
49 And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!
50 For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Jesus reproveth the ambition and boldness of his kinsmen: 10 goeth up from Galilee to the feast of tabernacles: 14 teacheth in the temple. 40 Divers opinions of him among the people. 45 The Pharisees are angry that their officers took him not, and chide with Nicodemus for taking his part.

AFTER these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him.

10 ¶ But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

38. 5 ISAIAH 39. 7

Hezekiah's Song of Thanksgiving.

ing, 5 Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith Jehovah, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years. 6 And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria; and I will defend this city. 7 And this shall be the sign unto thee from Jehovah, that Jehovah will do this thing that he hath spoken: 8 behold, I will cause the shadow on the steps, which is gone down on the [1]dial of Ahaz [2]with the sun, to return backward ten steps. So the sun returned ten steps [3]on the dial whereon it was gone down.

9 The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I said, In the [4]noontide of my days I shall go into the gates of Sheol:
I am deprived of the residue of my years.
11 I said, I shall not see [5]Jehovah, even [5]Jehovah in the land of the living:
I shall behold man no more [6]with the inhabitants of the world.
12 My dwelling is removed, and is carried away from me as a shepherd's tent:
I have rolled up, like a weaver, my life; he will cut me off from the [7]loom:
From day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.
13 [8]I quieted myself until morning; as a lion, so he breaketh all my bones:

Receives Messengers from Babylon

[10]Wherefore recover thou me, and make me to live.
17 Behold, it was for my peace that I had great bitterness:
But [11]thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of [12]corruption;
For thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.
18 For Sheol cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee:
They that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.
19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day:
The father to the children shall make known thy truth.
20 Jehovah is ready to save me:
Therefore we will sing my songs with stringed instruments
All the days of our life in the house of Jehovah.
21 Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boil, and he shall recover. 22 Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of Jehovah?

39 At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah; for he heard that he had been sick, and was recovered. 2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and showed them the house of his [13]precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his [14]armor, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah

Jacob's Sons sent again, and Benjamin with them

I will bring him to thee again. 38 And he said, My son shall not go down with you; for his brother is dead, and he only is left: if harm befall him by the way in which ye go, then will ye bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to Sheol.

43 And the famine was sore in the land. 2 And it came to pass, when they had eaten up the corn which they had brought out of Egypt, their father said unto them, Go again, buy us a little food. 3 And Judah spake unto him, saying, The man did solemnly protest unto us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you. 4 If thou will send our brother with us, we will go down and buy thee food: 5 but if thou will not send him, we will not go down: for the man said unto us, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you. 6 And Israel said, Wherefore dealt ye so ill with me, as to tell the man whether ye had yet a brother? 7 And they said, The man asked straitly concerning ourselves, and concerning our kindred, saying, Is your father yet alive? have ye another brother? and we told him according to these words: could we certainly know that he would say, Bring your brother down? 8 And Judah said unto Israel his father, Send the lad with me, and we will arise and go; that we may live, and not die, both we, and thou, and also our little ones. 9 I will be surety for him; of my hand shalt thou require him: if I bring him not unto thee, and set him before thee, then let me bear the blame for ever: 10 for except we had lingered, surely by this time we had returned a second time. 11 And their father Israel said unto them, If it be so now, do this; take of the choice fruits of the land in your vessels, and carry down a present for the man, a little balm, and a little honey, spices and myrrh, pistachio nuts, and almonds: 12 and take double money in your hand; and the money that was returned in the mouth of your sacks carry again in your hand; peradventure it was an oversight: 13 take also your brother, and arise, go again unto the man: 14 and [3]God Almighty give you mercy before the man, that he may release unto you your other brother and Benjamin. And if I be bereaved of my children, I am bereaved.

The Transfiguration. The True Elijah. Epileptic Boy

some of them that stand here, who shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

17 And after six days Jē'sŭs taketh with him Pē'tĕr, and [1]Jāmes, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart: 2 and he was transfigured before them; and his face did shine as the sun, and his garments became white as the light. 3 And behold, there appeared unto them Mō'sĕs and Ē-lī'jăh talking with him. 4 And Pē'tĕr answered, and said unto Jē'sŭs, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three [2]tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mō'sĕs, and one for Ē-lī'jăh. 5 While he was yet speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. 6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. 7 And Jē'sŭs came and touched them and said, Arise, and be not afraid. 8 And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jē'sŭs only.

9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jē'sŭs commanded them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead. 10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Ē-lī'jăh must first come? 11 And he answered and said, Ē-lī'jăh indeed cometh, and shall restore all things: 12 but I say unto you, that Ē-lī'jăh is come already, and they knew him not, but did unto him whatsoever they would. Even so shall the Son of man also suffer of them. 13 Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of Jŏhn the Băp'tĭst.

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, 15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is epileptic, and suffereth grievously; for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and ofttimes into the water. 16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him. 17 And Jē'sŭs answered and said, O faithless

Hear us from Thy throne above;
Thine forever may we be,
Here, and in eternity.

2 Thine forever! Oh, how blest
They who find in Thee their rest!
Saviour, Guardian, heavenly Friend,
Oh, defend us to the end!

3 Thine forever! Lord of life,
Shield us through our earthly strife:
Thou the Life, the Truth, the Way,
Guide us to the realms of day.

4 Thine forever! Shepherd, keep
These Thy weak and trembling sheep,
Safe alone beneath Thy care,
Let them all Thy goodness share.

5 Thine forever! Thou our Guide,
All our wants by Thee supplied;
All our sins by Thee forgiven,
Lead us, Lord, from earth to heaven.

Before the Lord we speak;
To Him we make our solemn vow,
A vow we dare not break:

Or ever quit the field.

160 OTHER FEASTS AND FASTS.

4 Once again those storms are breaking;
Hearts are failing, love grows cold;
Faith is darkened, sin abounding;
Grievous wolves assail Thy fold:
Save us, Lord, our one Salvation;
Save the faith revealed of old.

5 Call the erring by Thy pity;
Warn the tempted by Thy fear;
Keep us true to Thine allegiance,
Counting life itself less dear;
Standing firmer, holding faster,
As we see the end draw near:

6 Till, with holy Jude and Simon
And the thousand faithful more,
We, the good confession witnessed
And the lifelong conflict o'er,
On the sea of fire and crystal
Stand, and wonder, and adore.

General for Saints' Days.

174 7.6.

FROM all Thy saints in warfare, for all Thy saints at rest,
To Thee, O blessèd Jesus, all praises be addressed.
Thou, Lord, didst win the battle that they might conquerors be;
Their crowns of living glory are lit with rays from Thee.

Insert here the stanza for the special Saint's Day to be celebrated.

ST. ANDREW.

2 Praise, Lord, for Thine apostle, the first to welcome Thee,
The first to lead his brother, the very Christ to see.
With hearts for Thee made ready, watch we throughout the year,
Forward to lead our brethren to own Thine Advent near.

ST. THOMAS.

3 All praise for Thine apostle, whose short-lived doubtings prove
Thy perfect twofold nature, the fullness of Thy love.
On all who wait Thy coming shed forth Thy peace, O Lord,
And grant us faith to know Thee, true Man, true God, adored.

6 MORNING PRAYER.

¶ Here, all standing up, the Minister shall say,

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;

Answer. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Minister. Praise ye the Lord.

Answer. The Lord's Name be praised.

¶ Then shall be said or sung the following Anthem; except on those days for which other Anthems are appointed; and except also, when it is used in the course of the Psalms, on the nineteenth day of the month.

Venite, exultemus Domino.

O COME, let us sing unto the LORD: let us heartily rejoice in the strength of our salvation.

Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving: and show ourselves glad in him with psalms.

For the LORD is a great God: and a great King above all gods.

In his hand are all the corners of the earth: and the strength of the hills is his also.

The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands prepared the dry land.

O come, let us worship and fall down: and kneel before the LORD our Maker.

For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.

O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness: let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

For he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: and with righteousness to judge the world, and the people with his truth.

¶ Then shall follow a Portion of the PSALMS, as they are appointed, or one of the Selections of Psalms. And at the end of every Psalm, and likewise at the end of the Venite, Benedicite, Benedictus, Jubilate, may be, and at the end of the whole Portion, or Selection from the Psalter, shall be said or sung the Gloria Patri:

GLORY be to the Father, and to the Son: and to the Holy Ghost:

386 GENERAL.

429 C. M.

MY God, accept my heart this day,
And make it always Thine,
That I from Thee no more may stray,
No more from Thee decline.

2 Before the cross of Him Who died,
Behold, I prostrate fall;
Let every sin be crucified,
And Christ be all in all.

3 Anoint me with Thy heavenly grace
And seal me for Thine own;
That I may see Thy glorious face,
And worship near Thy throne.

4 Let every thought, and work, and word,
To Thee be ever given;
Then life shall be Thy service, Lord,
And death the gate of heaven!

430 L. M.

JESU, Thou joy of loving hearts!
Thou Fount of life! Thou Light of men!
From the best bliss that earth imparts
We turn unfilled to Thee again.

2 Thy truth unchanged hath ever stood;
Thou savest those that on Thee call;
To them that seek Thee, Thou art good,
To them that find Thee, all in all.

3 We taste Thee, O Thou living Bread!
And long to feast upon Thee still;
We drink of Thee, the Fountain Head,
And thirst from Thee our souls to fill.

FOR all the saints, who from their labors rest,
Who Thee by faith before the world confessed,
Thy Name, O Jesu, be forever blest.

2 Thou wast their Rock, their Fortress, and their Might:
Thou, Lord, their Captain in the well-fought fight;
Thou, in the darkness drear, the one true Light.
Alleluia.

3 Oh, may Thy soldiers, faithful, true, and bold,
Fight as the saints who nobly fought of old,
And win, with them, the victor's crown of gold.

We feebly struggle, they in glory shine;
Yet all are one in Thee, for all are Thine.

NELSON'S NEW CENTURY LIBRARY

Of Standard Authors. Printed on Nelson's India Paper.

HUGO,
SHAKESPEARE,
ELIOT,
DICKENS,
THACKERAY,
SCOTT,

AUSTEN,
BRONTËS,
AND
SELECTED WORKS OF THE BEST AUTHORS.

The Type is the same in both.

The New Century Library is a radical departure in the art of bookmaking. The largest novel is published unabridged in a single volume which is so small that it is equally suitable for the pocket or satchel, and consequently invaluable for summer reading and traveling. As a library edition it is handsome in the extreme.

The size is only $4\frac{1}{4}$ by $6\frac{1}{4}$ inches, and not thicker than a monthly magazine. Each volume weighs less than eight ounces.

Nelson's India paper is used in making these books. Although thin, this paper is very strong and remarkably opaque. It is made specially for Thomas Nelson & Sons, and cannot be procured elsewhere.

The type is as large and as easily read as that you are now reading. The printing is beautiful and clear, and the thin paper and handsome binding give a delightful volume, one that fits perfectly into Charles Lamb's requisite: "A volume you can easily hold in the hand and enjoy by the light of the evening lamp."

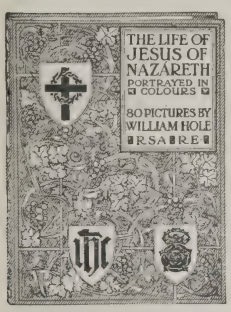
Life of Jesus of Nazareth (The).

Reproductions in color. Facsimile of the eighty water-color drawings by WM. HOLE, R.S.A., R.E., portraying the Life of Christ from the Annunciation to the Ascension. Each picture is preceded by the Bible Narrative, illustrated with introductory prefaces by the Venerable Archdeacon SINCLAIR and Dr. GEORGE ADAM SMITH, and descriptive notes on the illustrations by the artist. Extra cloth. Illuminated cover. Gold top.....$4.00



The pictures in this volume, portraying the Life of the Redeemer, have excited unrivaled interest because the artist has striven to present the scenes as they would have appeared to a man of the land and time when they happened. They show us what in those great hours anyone with a keen eye might have seen, not only of the central figure, but of the earth, the air, the faces, the figures and emotion of the crowd. As a consequence, everyone who knows the land and the atmosphere will find them again in these pictures, and those who have not been so privileged will, with the aid of these pictures, be enabled to get a better understanding of the scenes and customs of the time in which our Lord lived than they could possibly get in any other way.

It is an immense advantage to find placed in our hands the beautiful drawings of a skilled artist made on the spot in that country, to illustrate that life which transcends in intensity of interest the biographies of even the greatest of men.

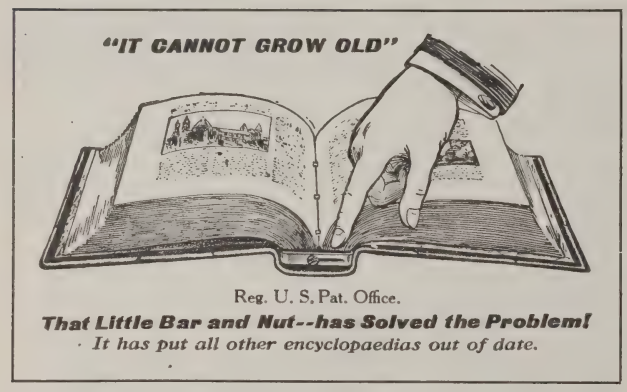
NELSON'S PERPETUAL LOOSE-LEAF ENCYCLOPAEDIA

and Research Bureau for Special Information



Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.

That Little Bar and Nut--has Solved the Problem!

It has put all other encyclopaedias out of date.

Nelson's Perpetual Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia contains more than 70,000 subjects, treating over 1,000,000 topics; 7,000 illustrations, 500 maps. Each Article in Nelson's is clear, concise in treatment, and embodies the results of the very latest scholarship and research. For example, articles on Flying Machines and Mono-Railways; Wireless Telegraphy and Wireless Telephony; Dreadnoughts and Submarines; Trusts and Cost of Living; Conservation; Forestry and Irrigation; Concrete and Steel and Iron Construction; Christian Science and Psychotherapy; Hookworm, Pellagra, Tuberculosis, and Cancer; the Pure Food and Drug Law and the New 1910 Census; the death of King Edward VII. and life of the present king of England, George V.; and hundreds of subjects not to be found in any other Encyclopaedia. Nelson's Loose-Leaf is the only Encyclopaedia that has ever adopted for use models or manikins. These handsome models or manikins graphically illustrate such absorbing subjects as the Human Body, the Dynamo, the Horse, the Motor Car, the Rose, and the Steam Turbine. Each model consists of a series of beautifully colored lithographed plates, placed—by hand—one upon another, that set forth accurately and minutely, yet so simply that a child may understand, the anatomical structure or the interior mechanism of the subject it is designed to illustrate. Accompanying the model is a descriptive index of its various parts—that of the Human Body alone has 240 descriptive references. It is the only absolutely new reference work obtainable, because the Loose-Leaf binding device makes it possible to keep the work always up-to-date.

Nelson's Maintains a Permanent Editorial Staff in New York, in Edinburgh, and in Montrea The Editor-in-Chief is John H. Finley, LL.D., President of the College of the City of New York; the Canadian Editor is William Peterson, LL.D., C.M.G., Principal of McGill University, Montreal, Canada, and the European Editor is George Sandeman, M.A., Edinburgh, Scotland. Upward of 1,000 contributors, who are in the foremost ranks of Science and Literature both in America and Europe, have been employed to make Nelson's Perpetual Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia, while three Permanent Editorial Staffs, assisted by a corps of contributors, are engaged on this great work the year round. Over 500 NEW PAGES are supplied annually, so that it never becomes old—and it Will Always Be the Latest.

Nelson's Research Bureau for Special Information is the only institution of its kind in existence, and is maintained entirely at the publishers' expense to answer questions and to furnish subscribers any information requested—FREE. Every purchaser obtains a complete reference library and the services of a great Editorial Staff to furnish any additional information required. Nelson's is always new—it cannot grow old—it precludes the necessity and expense of buying any other book of reference.

HISTORICAL NOVELS

In response to the recommendation of the "Committee of Ten," certain standard historical novels have been selected from the Standard Literature Series for the correlation of studies. Some of these have been made more available for youthful readers by judicious elimination of much dry descriptive matter which would often be only glanced at in reading, but the complete connected story remains in the author's own language.

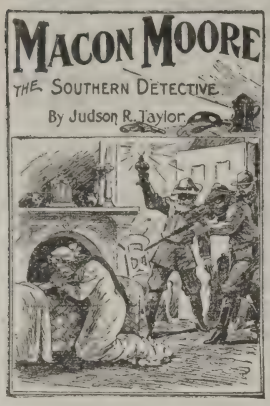
MACON MOORE, THE SOUTHERN DETECTIVE. By JUDSON R. TAYLOR.



Here is another rattling good book that we unhesitatingly recommend to every one who enjoys a thrilling detective story. Each chapter contains a startling episode in the attempt of MACON MOORE to run to earth a gang of moonshiners in Southern Georgia, whose business was that of manufacturing illicit whisky. His capture by the "Night Riders," and his daring escape from them at their meeting in the Valley of Death, forms one of the many exciting incidents of the story. One of our reader writes to us as follows:

"I was absolutely unable to stop reading 'Macon Moore' until I had finished it. I expected to read for an hour or so, but the situations were so dramatic and exciting at the end of each chapter, that before I knew it I had started the next one. I have read it three times, once while practicing exercises on the piano, and I shall read it again. It is a corker."

Price, bound in paper covers, 25 cents.

ST. ELMO. By AUGUSTA J. EVANS. The most popular book in America to-day.

The history of this book is remarkable. It was first published nearly 45 years ago, and met with a fair measure of success; but it was not until within the last three years that it achieved special prominence, since which time over half a million copies have been sold. It is hard to account for this wonderful jump into popularity at the present time, except for the fact that the story is one of real merit, and is now doubly recognized as such. It is a mark of signal distinction for the author, to think that she wrote a story so much ahead of the times.

The story is founded upon the never-old theme of love—the pure love of a good woman—and shows the wonders that can be accomplished with and through it, even to the extent of the reclamation of an extremely talented and extraordinary man having a predilection for evil and sin.

No story written in years has aroused the discussion that this book has. Can you afford to miss it? Do you want to keep abreast of the times, and read what other people are talking about? Then buy and read "St. Elmo."

Price, bound in paper covers, 25 cents.

ON A FAST TRAIN THROUGH GEORGIA is a book that sells on sight, but since you have not seen it we will try to describe it to you. Have you ever been to the theatre and laughed at the comedians and vaudeville monologues until you thought your sides would split? And immediately after the show you have been disgusted because you couldn't remember a single joke you heard? If you have—this is the book you want. It was written by one of the most clever comedians on the stage, and as the stories and jokes are reeled off one after the other, just as you have heard them at the theatre, you feel so pleased with yourself you don't know what to do. It is one of the funniest books ever printed. Price, paper bound, 15 cents.

OLD WITCHES' DREAM BOOK AND COMPLETE FORTUNE TELLER.—Do you ever dream? And would you like to know the meaning of any or all your dreams? If so, you ought to buy this book, which contains the full and correct interpretations of all dreams and their lucky numbers. Also fortune telling by cards, by the grounds in the coffee cup, how to discover a thief, to know whether a woman shall have the man she wishes, to know what fortune your future husband shall have, to see your future wife or husband. The dumb cake, together with charms, incantations, etc., etc. This is a book that every one that wishes to know what is going to happen ought to buy. Price, 25 cents.

THE ASHES OF LOVE.

By CHARLES GARVICE,
The Matchless Magician of Fiction.

Unparalleled in interest! Unequalled in its thrilling situations! Unsurpassed in dramatic intensity this marvellous story of love, passion, intrigue, mystery and adventure holds the reader spell-bound. From the pastoral beauty and palatial mansions of a northern clime, we follow hero and heroine, with breathless interest to the sun-scorched veldt and arid plains of Southern Africa. On two continents we watch the battle between virtue and villainy—honor and rascality—justice and knavery. By the magic art of the author we are transformed from mere readers, and become actual participants in a life drama of tremendous interest—a drama which stirs every fibre of our being and sends the blood coursing like a mill-race through the tense arteries af a spell-bound body.

The conventional scorned! The commonplace spurned! New faces, new types, new scenes, new thrills! Seize the golden opportunity here and now. Don't procrastinate, don't delay, but buy and read this stupendous masterpiece of matchless fiction.

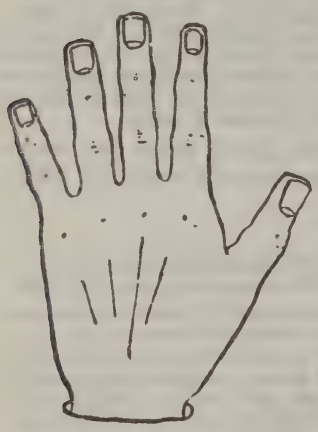
"The Ashes of Love" contains nearly 450 pages of solid reading matter, printed in large type on good quality of paper, bound in paper covers with attractive cover design in two colors. Price, 25 cents.

THE SHADOW OF A CROSS. By MRS. DORA NELSON and F. C. HENDERSCHOTT.

This story has just been run as a serial in a monthly paper having one of the largest, if not the largest, circulation of any monthly in the country, and it is in consequence of repeated requests that we have just published it in book form. It is a strong story of love and religion, in which the church takes precedence over love in the heart-affair of the heroine, but after many struggles and vicissitudes, the battle is finally won, matters are adjusted and the story is brought to a happy conclusion. 200 pages, paper bound, 25 cents.

THE WORLD'S FINGER is the title of the most absorbing detective narrative ever written. One would not surmise from the title that such was the fact; but the closing chapter of the book gives the clue to its meaning: "I swore to my father on his death-bed that The World's Finger should never point to a Davanant as amongst the list of known convicts, and that oath I will keep." One reader writes: "I thought I would read a chapter or two of THE WORLD'S FINGER, to see what it was all about. I soon found out, and it was two o'clock in the morning before I laid the book down, having read it to the end at one sitting. It certainly is a corker." Bound in paper cover; price, 25 cents.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN. By Harriet Beecher Stowe. It is hardly necessary to describe this book, because it is so well known and has been so widely read and discussed. If you have never read it, but have promised yourself to do so at some future time—now is the time. The book contains 250 pages, illustrated with original wood cut engravings by Cruikshank. Price, bound in paper, 25 cents.



YOUR HAND IS YOUR FORTUNE; or, Modern Palmistry. We have published a cheap edition of our Modern Palmistry book under the above title, to enable those who are interested in this subject to secure for little money the same material for which we charge 50 cents and $1.00 in another form. This book is fully illustrated and bound in paper cover, handsomely illustrated in colors. It contains 192 pages. Price 15 cents.

WEDDING RING (THE).—This book contains a series of sermons delivered by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D. No sermons ever delivered have created so great a sensation as this series. Hundreds of people could not get into the church to listen to them.

If you are married, or expect to be, or if you have father, mother, brother or sister, you should read this book. The sermons are not only on the relations between husband and wife, but on all the family relations. It tells how, when and whom you should marry, and gives good advice on all the relations of life.

The following is a table of contents: The Choice of a Wife; The Choice of a Husband; Clandestine Marriage; Matrimonial Harmony or Discord; Marital Duties; Costume and Morals; Duties of Wives to Husbands; Hotels versus Homes; The Domestic Circle; Sisters and Brothers; The Children's Patrimony; Motherhood; Trials of Housekeeping. Paper cover, 25 cents.

WHITE DANDY, THE STORY OF A HORSE. By V. C. Melville. Everyone interested in horses should read this charming story. It stands shoulder to shoulder with the famous book BLACK BEAUTY for pathos, heart interest and gentleness. If the two books above mentioned were read with all the attention which they should command we would have less cause to complain of the cruelty to animals from brutal masters. Price, bound in handsome illustrated paper cover in colors, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

WHY I AM WHAT I AM. 12mo, 160 pages. Paper cover, 25 cents. Mailed to any address, postpaid on receipt of price. The "Christian Union" says of it: "In 'Why I Am What I Am,' fourteen representatives of different religious denominations give the reasons for their peculiar faith. The representative men have been well chosen, and the denominations include the Roman Catholic at one extreme and the Jew at the other. We know of no volume which in so compact a form affords so good material for a study of denominational peculiarities, their nature and the reasons for them."

WOMAN, HER POWER AND PRIVILEGES.—This is a series of Twelve Sermons by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, and should be read by all who are interested in the home and family. Paper cover, 25 cents; cloth cover, 75 cents. Following is the Table of Contents: Women Who Fight the Battle of Life Alone; Worldly Marriages; Broken Promises of Marriage; Dominion of Fashion; The Veil of Modesty; Wifely Ambitions; Good and Bad; Woman's Happiness—What Can and What Cannot Make a Woman Happy; The Grandmother; Woman's Opportunity; The Queen of Home; Parental Blunders; Christ the Song.

THE FIRST COUNTY PARK SYSTEM. By Frederick W. Kelsey. Large 12mo. 300 Pages. Fully Illustrated. Cloth bound. Price, $1.25. This book is an authentic, and graphically written history of the Essex County, New Jersey, public parks, now one of the most important park systems in the country. The author was a member and vice-president of the first board of five commissioners selected to lay out the parks and he formulated the plan which was the basis of the subsequent legislation to provide for the park system, for which the first appropriation was $2,500,000, and is probably more familiar with the inception and workings of the enterprise than any other person, and from his intimate knowledge of events is recognized as being especially well qualified to write this history. The facts are concisely and interestingly presented, and the volume contains most valuable information, not only for creating and laying out new park systems, but timely suggestions for those already established. The book is beautifully illustrated with ten full-page half-tone views of the different parks, and a County map in colors, showing at a glance the parks and proposed parkways. Bound in cloth. Price, $1.25.

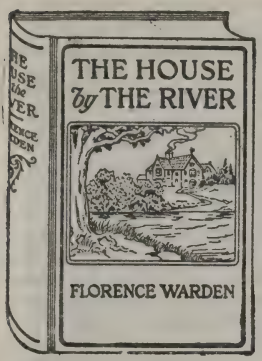
A GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI.—A Novel Founded upon the Play of the Same Name.

Senator Langdon is picked out by dishonest men in Washington to be used as their tool in the Senate. But the "tool" proves to be sharp at both ends and cuts the men who mean to cheat the people. Honesty attracts honesty, and Langdon, the honest man, draws to his side as his secretary, "Bud" Haines, one who is as shrewd as the dishonest senators, who planned to use the planter Langdon.

One of Senator Langdon's daughters, in love with one of the conspirators, tries to blacken the name of her father and his secretary, but the plot fails, and Langdon, the good-natured man from Mississippi, proves more than a match for all the rascality in Washington. Just how Langdon accomplishes his ends is one of the most interesting parts of the book—and even Langdon himself doesn't know how he is going to win out until the last moment—then he wins by simple honesty.

Needless to say there is the love story throughout the book of "Bud" Haines, the secretary, and the senator's daughter.

The book contains 190 pages, with 8 half-tone illustrations from the play, and is handsomely bound in cloth stamped in colors. Price, 50 cents, net; postage, 10 cents additional.



THE HOUSE BY THE RIVER. By Florence Warden. The name and fame of Miss Warden as an author is world-wide, and there are millions of people who remember with pleasure her absorbing story entitled "The House on the Marsh," over half a million copies of which were sold. It is written wth great clearness and lucidity, and holds the reader's interest to the end, where a remarkable surprise occurs.

The book contains 320 pages, is printed on best quality laid book paper, and is handsomely bound in green vellum cloth, stamped in three colors. The above cut shows the front cover. Price, $1.00. Bound in paper covers, 35 cents.

MY CRIME. 12mo, 325 pages. Bound in cloth, price, $1.25. This is a wonderfully sensational story, written by Josephine Zeman, and we guarantee any person reading it will be more than pleased by the unexpected events that happen in rapid succession—one of the principal elements of the story being when a brother of one of the characters acts as a substitute for the brother who is a minister.

MR. CLAGHORN'S DAUGHTER. By Hilary Trent. This is a surprising romance, a book that goes to the heart of things. The problem it presents belongs indeed to humanity, but it more especially confronts women as such. Its tenderness, its pathos, and its boldness are decidedly feminine.

Mark Twain says: "I have read it with strong interest because of the grace and vigor of the style, and because of the attractions of the story as a story."

12mo. 288 pages, cloth bound. Price, $1.00 by mail, postpaid, to any address.

NICHOLSON'S ENCYCLOPEDIA OF ARCHITECTURE.—By Peter Nicholson, the world-renowned architect and builder, whose reputation and experience make him an unquestioned authority on all questions relating to building and structures of all kinds, including railroads, bridges, lighthouses, cathedrals, churches, theatres, public and private buildings of every character. It would be impossible in any circular to give the faintest idea of the real and practical value of this work, but when we make the statement that thousands of copies of this work have been sold for $32.00, and that we now offer you the same work for $10.00, you will have some idea of the great advantage we are now offering you. It is issued in two handsome quarto volumes, bound in half morocco, each volume containing 650 pages, or a total of 1,300 pages—among which are two hundred and fifteen full-page steel engravings, which have been reproduced especially for this work. The enormous expense attendant upon the publication of this work will be understood somewhat when we state that the original cost of the plates used was nearly $11,000. A wonderful and special offer!—We are anxious to get immediate orders for this work to help to reimburse us for the immense outlay, and we make you the following special offer for a limited time: If you will send us a remittance of $9 within twenty days after you receive this catalogue we will send the two volumes by express, all charges paid, to your address.

ONE FOR MANY. By Vera. Paper cover, 25 cents; cloth bound, 50 cents.

OUR NATION'S NEED. By J. A. Conwell. This is a work which every lover of his country should read. Paper cover, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

OUR RIGHT TO LOVE. By Anna Chase Deppen. One review says of it: After the dreary round of problem novels, "studies in realism," and "historical" vagaries, a story like "Our Right to Love," by Anna Chase Deppen is like a draught of sparkling spring water to one sick of debauchery. It is like stepping into the fragrant purity of a spring dawn from some midnight revel, where glaring lamplight and spattered wine lees and the reek of musk made a false world of poisonous pleasures and shrill laughter that for a time drowned the sound of cursing and sobbing.

"Our Right to Love." Our right to love simply, naturally, purely, with such a love as perchance the angels in heaven may envy. And yet the story is not without its darker side. Strong threads of passion and of jealousy are woven into the fabric, even as brightness and darkness, happiness and sorrow are woven into human life. It is no flight of romantic fancy. No melodramatic unreality disfigures it. It is a drama of life; such a drama as any man and woman might live, and such as many do live, where the strong imperious right to love strives with evil influences, asserting itself against every barrier, and triumphing finally over all difficulties thrown about it by adverse fate or human malevolence. The book contains 275 pages, illustrated, and bound in cloth. Price, $1.00.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR. By P. W. 12mo. Illustrated. Paper cover, 50 cents. Handsomely bound in cloth, $1.00. This is a most amusing book. It is made up of epigrams, and is not intended for continuous reading any more than the dictionary. Picked up at leisure half hours it will furnish a great deal of entertainment. The author is a genial cynic, who has reduced to a fine art the saying of the things that contain truth spiced with malice.

THE SECRET OF SEX; or, Controlling the Sex in Generation. By Samuel H. Terry. 12mo. 209 pages. Bound in cloth, price $1.00. Explaining the Physical Law Influencing Sex in the Embryo, and giving directions how to produce male or female offspring at will.

THE SPIRIT OF PENN. By Charles E. Hewitt. A dainty and charming romance of life among the Quakers, with scenes laid in and about the Shawangunk Mountains in New York State. This book will appeal to every reader of fiction who appreciates a good love tale simply told and without the sensational features so prevalent in recent novels. 12mo, 190 pages, cloth bound, with frontispiece, $1.00.

THE SEVEN WHO WERE HANGED.

By LEONID ANDREYEV.

WHAT THE REVIEWERS SAY:

"Andreyev is greater than Poe—greater for his truth if not for his art.—St. Louis Mirror.

"It is by reason of its art even more real, more horrifying, more impressive than any other Russian fiction translated in a long time. Under the crystal simplicity of Andreyev's style each spirit reveals itself, stripped of its bodily covering, in its inmost truth."—New York Times.

"For those interested in the cry of the oppressed, it will be like a call to battle."—Philadelphia Item.

"It is a painful narrative, and yet it has a curious note of reality, of convincingness that we cannot resist.—Rochester Post-Express.

"Grewsome, because it is fearfully real. But it is compelling for the same reason."—New York World.

"You rise from the book with a shudder—which is a tribute to its power—and with the firm conviction that capital punishment is a crime—another tribute to its author's genius."—Kentucky Post.

"It is not a mere morbid probing into the abnormal and horrible. It has its mission. It is a grim and terrible picture, and it is painted with tremendous art—the art of a Dore."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

12mo, cloth, 190 pages, with cover inlay and frontispiece, $1.00.

THE SOCIABLE GHOST. By Olive Harper and Another. This is the story of what a love-sick young reporter on one of the big dailies "saw and did not see while he was not there" in Trinty Churchyard one mild May night. He meets the Sociable Ghost and gives him a lighted pipe to smoke, and some spritual comfort—out of a bottle—and this ghost then invites and chaperones the reporter to the ceremonies under ground. 12mo. 235 pages. With 14 full-page illustrations. Price, $1.00. Paper cover, 50 cents.

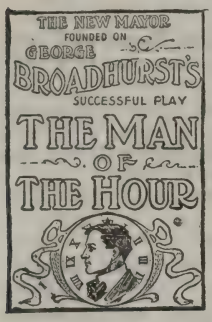
THE NEW MAYOR; FOUNDED UPON GEORGE BROADHURST'S PLAY THE MAN OF THE HOUR.



THE SUCCESS OF THE YEAR! Thousands of people have not had the opportunity of seeing the play, and to them, as well as to those who have seen it, we desire to announce that we have just published the Story of George Broadhurst's Play in book form. There is already an enormous demand for this book, owing to the fact that the play is meeting with such a tremendous success, it now being presented for the 600th consecutive time in New York, and four companies presenting it on tour throughout the United States. It is a strong story of politics, love, and graft, and appeals powerfully to every true American.

The play has received the highest praise and commendation from critics and the press, a few of which we give herewith:

"THE FINEST PLAY I EVER SAW."—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

"The best in years."—N. Y. Telegram.
"A triumph."—N. Y. American.
"A Sensation."—N. Y. Herald.
"A straight hit."—N. Y. World.

The BOOK has been issued under the title of THE NEW MAYOR, Founded upon George Broadhurst's Play THE MAN OF THE HOUR, in order not to conflict with a book with a similar title by Octave Thanet.

THE DEVIL. A NOVEL FOUNDED UPON THE SUCCESSFUL PLAY OF THE SAME NAME BY FERENC MOLNAR.

The play jumped into immediate and popular favor on account of the new presentation of the action and result of evil thinking. One of the critics says: "There is a great lesson for men and women in this wonderful story. It is one that will impress with its power. The devil here wins his victory as he has won many, but each year, as men and women get better, the victories of satan are fewer. Good men and good women fight against evil and do not yield. This tragic, heart-breaking story, by the wonderful new writer, tells one side of the battle between good and evil that goes on in every human heart. It is a powerful warning against 'playing with fire.'"

The book contains 190 pages, printed in large, clear type on best quality of book paper, with eight full-page half-tone illustrations from the play. It is handsomely bound in cloth with cover illustration and ink stamping; retail price, 50 cents net, postage 10 cents per copy additional; paper edition, illustrated, with cover in two colors, price, 25 cents, postpaid.

WHEN THE WILDWOOD WAS IN FLOWER. By G. Smith Stanton.

This book is written in the same entertaining manner as "Where the Sportsman Loves to Linger," and tells of the fifteen years the author spent on the plains as a stockman, before and after the days of railroads, and also of his vacation days spent in the open. The author was a shipper of live stock to Chicago before, during and after the formation of the Beef Trust, and relates how he, with other stockmen, was driven out of business by that gigantic combination.

"Reminiscences of the Author's Vacation Days," the second half of the book, contains seven short narratives, two of which appeared some time ago in magazines and were declared by one of the leading editors of the country to be the most interesting he had ever read.

The book is printed on specially made wood-cut paper, from large type, and contains 125 pages, fully illustrated with forty half-tone pictures from photographs, and is bound in attractive cloth binding. Price $1.00 net, postage 8 cents additional.

PALLISER'S USEFUL DETAILS—An immense practical work on every description of architectural details.

This work consists of forty plates, size of each 20 x 26 inches. The cost of drawing each plate for engraving is $35.00, and the price for the whole forty plates published has just been reduced from $3.00 to $2.00. They are worth $10.00 to anyone interested in the subject. Each plate is engraved and printed on tinted plate paper, so as not to soil by handling, and is a fac-simile of original drawing without reduction, therefore just the same as if drawn by hand for placing in the hands of the mechanic for execution. They are given at a very large scale, none being smaller than ¾ inch to foot, and many larger and up to half full size; in fact, they are so plain that every mechanic and apprentice can readily understand them. That they are practical designs is evident, all the drawings having been built from, many of them duplicated several times over. They embrace a variety of constructional drawings for all classes of work—exterior and interior—pertaining to the erection of buildings of every description, and such as never before published.

We will send it to any address, securely packed, on receipt of $2.00.
